Leave a legacy of hope that changes lives forever

Your faithful sponsorship is already transforming the life of a child. Through your generous heart, you're providing education, nutrition, and spiritual nurture that opens doors to a brighter future.

But what if you could extend that transformative impact for generations to come? By including ChildHope in your will or estate plan, you can ensure that your commitment to lifting children out of poverty continues long into the future.

Making a bequest is simple – you can designate either a specific amount or a percentage of your estate. This thoughtful planning allows you to provide for both your loved ones and the ministry closest to your heart.

Your legacy gift will help write countless stories of hope, creating ripples of positive change that touch lives far beyond your own lifetime.

For more information on estate planning and legacy giving, please contact Debra Moran, Planned Giving Specialist, at dmoran@childhopeonline.org or 1-800-289-7071 today. Or instruct your attorney to simply place ChildHope in your will as you desire – the official address to include in that document is 1445 N. Boonville Ave., Springfield, Missouri, 65802.

Your legacy of compassion for Latin America and the Caribbean's children can extend beyond your lifetime! Thank you for your faithfulness as a sponsor.
